

Gannon Homes
Tax consultant

The role

We are looking for a bright, well organised and driven individual to join our tax department in a support role to the head of tax. This role would be ideal for someone looking to move from practice to industry.

The role involves:

- Preparing monthly corporation tax computations and income tax computations coinciding with management account preparation and review.
- Preparing annual corporation tax returns and income tax returns for various entities in the business.
- Preparing VAT returns and RCT reviews on an ongoing basis.
- Assisting in the analysis of the VAT treatment of the sale of investment properties.
- Dealing with ad-hoc queries raised by members of the finance team in relation to VAT and RCT issues.
- Dealing with home buyers in relation to the Help-To-Buy scheme.
- Assisting in the design of reports generated by the finance function which form part of our internal control procedures.
- Pro-actively engaging in continuous improvement initiatives across tax and finance processes and IT systems.
- Getting involved in one-off projects requiring tax input.
- Liaising with Revenue and with our external tax advisers.

Candidate profile

The role would suit a candidate who -

- has experience and knowledge of accounting processes and accounting principles (an accounting qualification would be a distinct advantage),
- has experience preparing tax returns,
- has a tax qualification or is currently sitting tax exams or would like to do so,
- is proficient in excel,
- is enthusiastic and enjoys working as part of a team, and
- has the ability to work in an organised way to meet deadlines.
