

VAT Advisory Manager - Google EU Headquarters, Dublin

About the job

Google's in-house tax team knows all things corporate tax. Made up of smart, perceptive Googlers with a flair for domestic, international and sales & use tax, the knowledge and expertise of this team runs deep. You have years of experience in this field and an extensive knowledge of those tax issues most relevant to internet companies. While we don't give our Googlers individual tax advice, you make it easy for Googlers to get what they need to make good tax decisions. You find ways to work smarter by streamlining and automating our tax processes and systems, and find ways to be both innovative and compliant.

The name Google came from "googol," a mathematical term for the number 1 followed by 100 zeros. And nobody at Google loves big numbers like the Finance team when providing in depth analysis on all manner of strategic decisions across Google products. From developing forward-thinking analysis to generating management reports to scaling our automated financial processes, the Finance organization is an important partner and advisor to the business.

Qualifications:

Minimum qualifications:

- Bachelor's degree in Finance, Accounting or Business, or equivalent practical experience.
- ITI qualification with a legal practice or equivalent practical experience.

Preferred qualifications:

- Experience in advising on VAT and indirect tax matters.
- VAT experience in working with large cross border transactions in industry, practice or both.
- Ability to adapt to changing task priorities and work situations.
- Ability to explain technical concepts in a simple and comprehensive way to colleagues without a tax technical background.
- Effective research, verbal and written communication skills, and customer service skills.
- Developed technical skills.
