O'Callaghan Stephen's Green Hotel 4*

1-5 Harcourt Street, Dublin 2

The Stephens Green Hotel was the fourth and last O'Callaghan Hotel in Dublin. The sumptuous 4-star hotel offers stylish, modern interior design focused on guest comfort and convenience while old world charm adds substance to this luxurious hotel in the center of Dublin.

This hotel has to be the most accessible hotel in Dublin for business and shopping trips to the city and south side suburbs as it is closely situated to any kind of public transport and most city sights are within easy walking distance. Enjoy the blend of modern and historical accents with the hotel comprising two magnificently restored Georgian buildings, and a beautiful glass atrium that works for the special and urban appearance of the hotel. These Georgian buildings are of cultural importance to Ireland and makes our Stephen's Green Hotel a part of it. One of both houses was home to the great Irish playwright, George Fitzmaurice, while 4 Harcourt Street was the birthplace of Lord Edward Carson, one of the founders of Northern Ireland and a central figure in Ireland's Unionism movement. Entering through the tasteful reception area, guests will be struck by colourful details and the stunning glass atrium, filling the lobby with natural daylight and overlooking the idyllic Stephen's Green Park.

The Morgan 4*

10 Fleet St, Temple Bar, Dublin 2

The Morgan Hotel is renowned as one of Dublin's favourite luxury city centre hotels.

The hotel is situated in Temple Bar, which is in the heart of Dublin's historic cultural quarter. Temple Bar is a square on the south bank of the River Liffey with cobbled streets and laneways, many of which have retained their original architecture and are lined with boutiques, galleries, restaurants and bars. The prime, city centre location allows each visitor to easily explore and discover their favourite part of Dublin.

The Morgan Hotel's location is ideal for both the leisure and corporate guest. Located just minutes' walk from many of Dublin's greatest landmarks, including Trinity College, Grafton Street, O'Connell Street, Ha'Penny Bridge, Christ Church, Guinness Storehouse and many more. The hotel is located close to the IFSC and the CCD (Convention Centre Dublin) and many international company headquarters are housed nearby, making The Morgan Hotel an ideal base for the corporate traveller.
